

I WISH I WERE...

I wish I were a Supergirl
With powers as unique as a pearl,
I would have loved to fly
In the open clear blue sky,
With no boundaries to cut my flight
And no wings to determine my might.

I wish I were a Supergirl
With powers to heal the world,
No sorrows, no pain
Only happiness and all gain,
Inequality, hatred, discrimination and jealousy
Would all change into a beautiful melody.

I wish my wishes turn into a reality
And I be the reason to bring back normality,
To end the era of social distancing
And bring back friends joyfully dancing,
Of allowing the world to join hands together
And making us all, birds of the same feather.

But then I feel do wishes come true?
Can I change the world and make a breakthrough?
I don't need any superpower
I am a girl and I have power,
A power to live, a power to love
A power so strong to make a curve 😊
